The following points have been agreed:

The Service Provider will use the datafile, which has exceptionally been delivered on a magnetic or electronic medium (tape or disk), on a rental-only basis

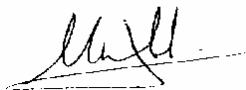

This datafile has been delivered for one single use only, whatever the delivery medium

The Service Provider undertakes :

- To use for one time only the addresses which have been supplied.
- Not to deduplicate or copy on any format whatsoever the data which has been supplied other than within the context of the sole use which has been agreed with the Owner. The Service Provider will destroy or delete all copies of the datafile which may have been made of it after completion of the operation.
- To take all necessary precautions to protect the magnetic or electronic medium delivered to him by the Owner from theft, duplication or destruction.
- Not to communicate:
 - the data to anybody or to transmit the data, especially by Internet.
 - to others that the services provider is in fact the owner of the file
- To undertake all necessary measures to ensure that the aforementioned commitments are respected by the personnel who are working under his authority
- If it comes to the Owner's attention that the data has been used more than one time, regardless of the type of use the Service Provider undertakes to pay 10 times the rental value for every additional usage without recourse, and this without prejudice to any action which may be undertaken in the case of any obvious fraudulent use.
- The Service Provider is solely responsible for fraudulent use of the data medium delivered.

- The Service Provider is duly advised that every datafile contains one trip per delivery, which will indicate to the Owner any double usage of the data.
